UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Aug. 21.—Japanese forces are in full retreat toward the interior defenses of their big base at Salamaua on the northeastern shore of New Guinea, Gen. MacArthur announced today.

Drove Them Out
American and Australian jungle troops, exerting increasing pressure on the tenacious Nipponese, drove the enemy from four strong points at Goodview Junction, Mount Tambora, Ordoobu and Komitum. The Japs in their haste abandoned machine guns and artillery pieces and left more than 300 buried dead behind them.

At the same time, the official communique disclosed, Allied heavy bombers, escorted by fighters, dropped 66 tons of bombs on the Borum airdrome at Wewak, shot down 19 enemy planes and destroyed at least five on the ground. In addition, six more enemy planes

Death Toll Rises In Kearney Blast

(International News Service)
KEARNEY, N. J., Aug. 21.—A mounting death toll was recorded today as rescuers probed the twisted mass of concrete and steel that was all remaining of the blasted Congoleum-Nalim plant No. 12. So far there are 12 known dead and possibly as many as 15 more victims buried in the wreckage.

The explosion occurred Thursday night just as the shifts were changing and for a time it was feared more workers were in the death-trap than otherwise would be.

From North China comes the true story of the man who was pinned under his overturned, wrecked car. Only his legs were visible. The coroner of Southport happened along at the time, stopped, and shouted at the protruding legs, "Was anybody killed?" "No," came a muffled answer from the depths of the mangled car, "but my gosh, boss, I'm losing all my gas."

Is Japan or Germany to be the target of the next offensive by American-British forces? Dispatches from Europe, the far east, Quebec and Washington bear conflicting testimony, reports from one sector contradicting those from another until the observer is left in a daze, thick fog.

From the vast Russian front comes fresh news of victory as the

Mailers Still 'Sick', Newspapers Delayed

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Members of the independent newspaper and mail deliveries union today ignored the War Labor Board's request that they return to work and continued the lay-off that has curtailed delivery of the New York Times, Herald-Tribune and 24 other smaller dailies.

The "strike", which is technically not a strike since the men simply reported "sick" en masse, began when drivers were dissatisfied with a WLB ruling granting an increase of $1 a day.

Other newspapers with their own delivery systems were not affected.

Rome Governor Resigns Office

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The Italian 'Stefani' News Agency, in a wireless transmission reported by U. S. Government Monitors, said today that Senator Dr. Riccardo Motta has been appointed commissioner extra-ordinary of Rome following the resignations of the city's governor and vice-governor.

The dispatch said that the governor, Prince Gian Franco Borghese, resigned when he was informed by the ministry of interior that certain legislative reforms had to be carried out. Dr. Carlo Manca, the vice-governor, also resigned. Both resignations were accepted.

Buses For 50,000 Idle In Chicago

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Ninety-seven buses of the Chicago Motor Coach Co., on which some 50,000 persons normally are dependent for transportation, were anchored to their outside garage today by a jurisdictional dispute.

Drivers refused to move the buses out of the garage despite the reminders of company officials that many war workers relied on them for transportation.

Herman Bogen, a spokesman for the drivers said they were protesting the action of the Chicago Motor Coach Co. employees' fraternity in suspending four drivers for attempting to lead the independent union into the C.I.O.

The fraternity now holds bargaining rights for the drivers.

TWIN BOYS' LIVES
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 21.—Robert and Donald Geraci, 12-year-old twins, owed their lives today to a police broadcast which resulted in the offer of 25 persons to donate blood to the youngsters who are suffering from hemorrhages.

The twins, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Geraci of Pittsburgh, entered Passavant hospital with two cousins, Adam and Ronald Perrognio, to undergo tonsil operations.

The operations were successful for the cousins, but the Geraci boys developed hemorrhages.

As a result, the call for blood donors was sent out and seven of the 25 persons who responded had the right type of blood needed to save the lives of the boys.

MOSCOW, Aug. 21.—The Russian front was aflame today from Leningrad to the Ukraine as Soviet forces pressed forward relentlessly against the Nazi bastions of Kharkov, Bryansk and Smolensk and passed the high water mark of the 1942-43 winter offensive.

Indicative of the scale of the fighting was the announcement by the Soviet high command that 118 German planes were shot down Thursday while 124 tanks were destroyed. More than 3,700 Nazis were killed yesterday, including 1,000 in the Spas Demensk sector, from which the Russians are driving in the direction of Smolensk.

Teachers Salary Ruling Recalled

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 21.—A formal justice department opinion ruling that cost-of-living salaries granted to teachers by the 1943 legislature could not be paid to substitute or those making less than $1,000 a year was back in the hands of Attorney General James H. Duff today for "clarification."

In his first such action, Duff recalled the opinion issued last week to Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas, asserting that it apparently created "widespread misunderstanding."

Duff explained that his recall will "not necessarily mean a change of opinion." He pointed out that some of the acts in the ruling "were not sufficiently quoted."

"There won't necessarily be a change of opinion," he said.

CAMDEN, N. J., Aug. 21.—With at least 2,400 tons of tomatoes threatened with spoilage at the doors of the Campbell Soup company's facilities today made a last-minute effort to obtain 1,000 workers to help get the bumper crop into processing divisions.

Ads urging "all patriotic men" to forsake their week-end leisure to work at the plant, "if only for as little as four hours at a time," were inserted in Philadelphia and nearby papers. R. M. Budd, an official of the company declared, "The 1,000 soldiers from Fort Dix, N. J., who were expected to arrive at the factory yesterday to aid in the processing, have not yet appeared."

Allied Warships Continue Assault On Italian Ports

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 21.—Allied warships continued their incessant bombardment of the Italian Peninsula with a new 24-hour assault. Allied headquarters revealed today, while swarms of African-based bombers practically isolated the Port of Naples by blasting its rail and road connections with the rest of Italy.

Selecting the railroad marshaling yards at Benevento, 40 miles northeast of Naples, as their special target, squadrons of B-25 Mitchell bombers and their P-38 Lightning escorts spread devastation among switching points, repair shops and rolling stock and battered two nearby rail and highway junctions while shooting down four of 20 attacking enemy interceptors.

Simultaneously, B-26 Marauders, also operating behind a protective screen, bombed the railroad yards at Benevento.

Congress To Get Manpower Draft

Controversy Will Probably Receive Congressional Attention In Fall

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The long-smouldering controversy over a manpower draft today appeared headed for a definite congressional showdown early next fall.

In preparation for the decision, the senate military affairs committee today completed compilation of testimony on the Austin-Wadsworth bill, which contains a warning from the committee, analyst that voluntary methods are failing.

Col. Lewis Sanders, the committee analyst, said that in practically no major war effort have there been sufficient voluntary workers.

"The outlook for the balance of 1943 is that under present manpower procedures we will, in important instances, fail to reach our objectives for lack of the necessary labor," he said.

"We may fail to reach our production objectives as much as by 10 to 15 percent, because of labor shortages alone."

"In any event, the excessive labor turnover and the inability to properly direct labor would cause constantly increasing hardships and annoyances to the civilian population, which are avoidable if the available supply of labor can be placed where it is needed."

Under terms of the Austin-Wadsworth Bill, both men and women could be drafted for war work if they voluntarily refused to accept employment deemed necessary by the government.

May Try To Drive Japan Out Of War Before Nazis Fall

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
QUEBEC, Aug. 21.—There were indications today that the Quebec conference between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill had been convened for the primary objective of driving Japan out of the war before any all-out attempt is made to invade Hitler's European fortress.

Such strategy of course, represents a radical modification as military planning between the two English-speaking allies since Pearl Harbor, when the United States was thrust into the global conflict. But the decisions of previous military conferences between the United States and Great Britain coupled with crumbs of information received here, make the Japan attack strategy fit together like pieces in a cross-word puzzle.

First and foremost in the analytical picture is the repeated public statement that the Japanese are planning to drive Japan out of the war before the Nazis fall.

First U. S. pilots to land on the Munda airfield and take off on a combat mission were Major John E. Little, First Lieut. Cotesworth E. Head of San Francisco, and Second Lieutenants Donald W. Davis and D. P. Works of the 13th Army Air Force.

Japanese failure to bomb the strip and prevent its repair after capture by American forces has been unofficially interpreted as a sign the enemy has been forced on the defensive in skies over the Solomon Islands.

Munda is no farther from the Japanese airdrome at Kaili than from Henderson field at Guadalcanal from which U. S. bombers winged forth against the Japs to neutralize the New Georgia base.

Some of the American planes covering the recent invasion of Vella Lavella island by U. S. forces took off from Munda, it was revealed.

At the same time, speculation here ran high that the time has also come for the allies to strike directly at the Germans in France.

The Anglo-American-Canadian forces under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, fresh from their conquest of Sicily, are expected to launch a triple envelopment of the lower end of the Italian boot when the attack comes.

Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles today said that the plan to drive Japan out of the war before the Nazis fall is being considered.

While the author of the plan declined to permit use of his name it was made apparent that the proposal will figure prominently in congressional action on the treasury request for a $12,000,000,000 tax bill.

The plan, in brief includes:
Normal individual income tax rates.
Normal corporate income tax rates.
Normal estate tax rates.

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The navy announced today that United States and Canadian troops have recaptured Jap-held Kiska Island in the Aleutians without opposition—marking the first time in the history of the war that the Japs have turned tail and fled without fighting.

Breaking a silence which had masked North Pacific operations since July 30, the navy, in a communique, said that the Yanks and Canadians landed on Kiska on Aug. 15, to find that the enemy had hastily evacuated the island.

At the same time, it was revealed by the naval high command that American forces in the first 14 days of the war that the Japs have turned tail and fled without fighting.

Court Upholds Case Of German-American

Philadelphia Woman Wins Fight Against Army Ejection Order

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Olga Schueller, German-born naturalized citizen and mother of a boy in the navy, today had won her fight against an army order ejecting her from this area as a person dangerous to the war effort.

In overruling the directive of Lieutenant General H. A. Drum, head of the eastern defense command, Federal Judge J. Cullen Ganev declared the expulsion order constituted a violation of Mrs. Schueller's constitutional and property rights under the U. S. constitution.

The jurist admitted that the Philadelphia waterfront section where Mrs. Schueller's restaurant is located is a center of great industrial activity and thus a "sensitive" area.

He also considered, he said, that Mrs. Schueller admitted membership in several German societies and that she had written to Adolf Hitler ending the letter with "Heil Hitler."

Nevertheless, Judge Ganev maintained, the army failed to show that her continued presence constituted a danger that warranted her removal with consequent property loss.

RAIDS NEAR NAPLES

(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 21.—The Italian high command, in a broadcast heard by Reuters, reported today that allied bombers had raided localities in the Naples, Abellino and Benevento areas of the Italian mainland, causing "great damage."

The Italians also claimed that an Italian submarine had sunk an allied destroyer off the coast of Sicily.

OPA To Roll Back Used Car Prices

Deputy OPA Director Announces Used Cars To Be Priced At October 1942 Level

PRICES HIGH SUPPLY LOW

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—An OPA regulation rolling back skyrocketing used car prices was being held up today awaiting the approval of James F. Brownlee, new deputy administrator in charge of prices.

The order, designed to restore used car prices to the October, 1942, bluebook levels, was completed some time ago. It was delayed, but has not been issued because of the internal reorganization of OPA.

Brownlee, who took office only a few days ago as result of the congressional mandate requiring the appointment of businessmen to OPA policy-making positions, is expected to reach a decision on the used car regulation within the next week, however.

Other OPA officials were reluctant to issue the order on the eve of the appointment of a new price deputy.

Wartime Shortage

Major reason for the terrific pressure on the used car field is the wartime shortage of new vehicles. Only about 100,000 new cars are left out of the pre-war stocks and these may be exhausted by January 1.

In addition, several hundred thousand cars are scrapped each year throughout the United States and used cars themselves tend to become increasingly scarce since no replacements are being produced.

OPA officials estimated that the 1943 trade in used cars is even greater than last year when some 4,500,000 vehicles changed hands. Sales are booming in the Midwest and prices are keeping pace with the rising volume of business. Cars are being drained away from the East.

It is said that the Germans have rejected an offer by the Swedish Red Cross to take care of Norwegian children in Sweden.

SECOND FRONT COST WOULD BE TERRIFIC, IN MAN POWER LOSS

bombers pulverize German war industries.

But what the Russians want is a United Nations sea-land-air drive against France or the low countries, that will "draw off 50 or 60 German divisions from the Russian front."

That would be fine for the Russians, but 60 divisions is 900,000 soldiers. To compel the transfer of that many Nazis from Russia would call for an allied invasion army of probably 2,500,000. Can we land and maintain that many allied soldiers in Europe? And how many American and British casualties would a 2,500,000-man amphibious assault on fortified Europe this year cost?

If we cannot put the preponderance of air-land-sea forces on the line in west Europe to make the cross-channel drive reasonably sure of success it isn't likely that we will try it, no matter what the Russians may ask. The Russians are our allies and we are for them. But naturally they are most interested in what happens on the Russo-German front.

Heavy Cost
A large American-British landing on the French coast might pave the way for even bigger Russian victories. But such an offensive might cost 500,000 or more allied casualties. That would seem a cheap price to the Soviets. But American-British bombers are pounding German war-power to pieces and by next summer we may be able to cross the channel for half that price.

So it is better than an even bet that the drive will have to wait until then, with the completion of Italian mop-up going on in the meantime.

Meanwhile, reports from Washington and Quebec hint that something is in the air concerning stepped up activities in the war against Japan. Recent reports from Chungking indicate that China has been hard pressed. She has been practically isolated since the Burma road was cut more than a year ago.

Lightweight supplies have been flown in by plane, but heavy munitions have been impossible to move. Without these heavy supplies, Chinese resistance seems doomed.

Approaches Crisis
This would indicate that while the war in Europe is in a satisfactorily stable condition, the battle of the far east is approaching a crisis. Hitler's legions, hurled back in Russia and kicked out of Africa and Sicily, are on the retreat everywhere.

On the other hand, in the far eastern theatre, the Japanese have a stranglehold on our old faithful friend, China. It would not be strange if our leaders should decide that the time has now come to break that hold and get China on her feet.

Statements and opinions herein are private to the writer and are not to be construed as reflecting the views of the navy department.

rate would be increased from 6 percent to either 8 or 10 percent; corporate normal rates from 40 to 45 percent, excess profits from 90 to 95, with the present 80 percent ceiling being retained.

Taxpayers who purchase new type war bonds, redeemable only after the war would be given deductions on income taxes up to 15 percent.

New type war bonds would not bear interest until after the war and would be non-transferable. Advantages claimed for the plan are that it would put war bonds in the hands of millions of people who would provide them with a "cushion" to meet the post war shock and would meet immediate revenue needs of the treasury.

The plan, it is estimated, would produce upwards of $40,000,000 in taxes and would in addition to present revenues, with most of the revenue coming in the form of induced investment in bonds.

DRIVE ON ITALY EXPECTED SOON

Welles yesterday confidently predicted that the conquest of all Italy will not be long delayed. Welles said that what King Victor Emmanuel meant, when he broadcast to the people of Sicily that it will not be long before they are reunited with Italy, is that the allies will do the reuniting.

Government quarters were also full of confidence that out of the Roosevelt-Churchill war strategy conference in Quebec will come the decision and plans for an allied assault on German occupied France.

Use Penicillin For Bone Ailment

(International News Service)

CANTON, O., Aug. 21.—Physicians today watched the results of the new drug penicillin on 16-year-old Kay Kennedy, who is suffering from osteomyelitis, a bone infection.

The girl was stricken 14 months ago and has failed to respond fully to nine blood transfusions and 11 operations.

agitation by the U. S. S. R. for the establishment of a second front in Europe. It can be assumed only that Russia turned to the public with her appeals after conversations along secret diplomatic lines between the United Nations had convinced Joseph Stalin that a "second front" in Europe was not forthcoming at least in the immediate future.

It can be conjectured further that, if Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill were plotting an imminent second front operation in Europe, they would have informed the Russian government of their plans for her cooperation in providing a military diversion would be an integral part of any European operation, if success is to be achieved.

Shipping Bottleneck
Second in importance in this trend of logic is the admitted fact that, despite recent successes against German U-boats, the United Nations number one problem is the shipping "bottleneck" both in freights and in war vessels.

It is known that, by comparison the war in the Pacific requires much larger tonnages in both these categories of ships, than does the European war. And, therefore, if Japan should be knocked out of the war, immense quantities of freighters and war vessels would be freed for operations in the Atlantic Ocean.

Then in the event of the anticipated fall of Italy and with a mortal blow at the Nipponese islands, Germany would stand as the sole remaining belligerent of the three-power Axis and German morale and resistance would be greatly impaired by the knowledge that she was standing alone against an angered determined world.

This major revision in strategy it must be understood, does not mean abandonment of the European war entirely. Undoubtedly further perfection of military attack operations against Germany and Italy is being brought under consideration at Quebec.

It does mean, however, that the major and imminent operation will shift to the Pacific theatre.

were listed as probably destroyed and three others damaged. The Allies lost only two planes.

Heavy Losses

The raid on the Wevuk air base, 350 miles up the coast from Salamaua, raised to 248 the total number of enemy planes smashed in that area within a week. In two surprise raids Tuesday and Wednesday, Allied bombers and fighters wiped out a fleet of 215 enemy planes and killed 1,500 Japanese soldiers.

Gen. MacArthur's "communique said significantly that "the enemy is in full retreat to his inner citadel of defenses at Salamaua itself," and that "our troops are mopping up."

As a result of their rapid advance, the Allies now hold all the vital ridges in the Salamaua sector and the Japs are expected to fall back to a new line of defenses in the immediate vicinity of the airport itself.

change in result," he said. "I don't say there won't be, but there won't necessarily be."

The opinion, written by Deputy Attorney General William M. Rutter, stated that the $24,300,000 authorized for the increases could be shared only by regular members of a teaching or supervisory staff (excluding substitutes) within the wage scales cited in the Corder-Hare act.

The $1000 annual salary was the lowest in the scale, but it was pointed out, however, that a few teachers were receiving $75 or $85 a month because they were teaching with "sub-standard certificates."

The recalled opinion had pointed out that it was not incongruous with the cost-of-living act to exclude those making less than $1,000 because "these teachers can bring themselves within the act if they qualify for regular teachers' certificates."

YANKS-CANUCKS LAND AUGUST 15, FIND JAPS GONE

of August had carried out 106 air bombardments on Kiska, while surface units of the navy had shelled enemy positions on the island 15 times.

The Allied attack forces encountered light anti-aircraft fire during bombing raids on Aug. 13, but on Aug. 14 the Japs failed to return any fire when naval units shelled the island four times at hourly intervals.

The navy said that "it is not known how the Japs got away." However, it was explained that it was possible that enemy surface ships reached Kiska under cover of heavy fogs to evacuate their troops.

The capture of Kiska was regarded as both strategically and diplomatically important. It marked the first time that the Japanese have lost face and fled since their sneak punch on Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941.

In the past the Japs have fought to the last man as they did when American forces captured Attu in the Aleutians earlier this year, but that myth has now been exploded.

Seizure of Kiska also gave the United States and its Allies an unbroken chain of air and naval bases clear across the Aleutians to Attu only 24 miles from important Japanese bases in the Kuriles.

The enemy seized Kiska on June 12, 1942, after having carried out a bombing raid on Dutch Harbor in Alaska a few days before.

ly separated points along a 1,000-mile front.

In the Ukraine, Russian forces tightened their stranglehold on the railway and industrial center of Kharkov, fourth biggest Soviet city, which has changed hands three times since the war began. Strong infantry and tank attacks were steadily cutting down the Nazi's shrinking escape corridor southwest of the city.

Capture of the railway town of Labeled, 30 miles southwest of Sumy and 100 miles northwest of Kharkov, placed the Red army at the farthest point reached in the 1942-43 winter offensive. And battlefront dispatches indicated the Russians were not stopping for a rest. One report said Soviet spearheads had reached a point eight miles south of Sumy.

More than 20 towns and villages fell into the hands of the advancing Russians as they registered gains of from three to six miles northwest and southwest of Kharkov.

screen of twin-tailed Lightnings, lashed the Aversa yards north of Naples and blocked the line linking that city with Rome.

This main rail link was dotted with gutted trains, while along the right of way at least one large warehouse was badly damaged and a number of smaller buildings and a gas works nearly demolished.

Wild Dogfight

One of the wildest dogfights of recent days broke out in the skies over the Aversa yards as Axis intercepting formations challenged the raiding squadrons. Marauder gunners shot down five Nazi planes in 20 minutes while Lightning pilots chalked up an additional six. Six other craft were listed as probably destroyed, making at least 17 planes out of the 30 in the enemy formation accounted for.

Diving down to low levels, the Lightnings swept over the Naples Harbor area, sending heavy caliber machinegun bullets ripping into water-front installations and wrecking an overpass just outside the city.

Crumpling of this bridge blocked a secondary route out of Naples, virtually completing its isolation.

All Welcome

"Out Of The Deep Have I Cried"

New Castle, August 14

Dear Rev. Thornton:

As I was reading your piece in tonight's paper about beer and liquor something told me to write to you. My home has been broken up over it, I am forced to live in an attic, my furniture is all gone. My husband lost his job, then his driver's license, then his car and I was forced to go out to work. My little girl, five years old, don't know what a home is. I never tasted it myself and have always tried to live by God's laws. Oh, Rev. Thornton keep the good work up. Please pray for my husband, he has left me and my little girl five years old. Our home is gone. How I cry and worry about it. Please pray for his return so that we can have a happy home again. Drink did it all. Please pray for him and us. I will not tell you my name but you will know some day soon.

God Bless You Rev. Thornton

The above letter came to my desk last Monday morning. It speaks for itself. It's another story of a destroyed home, a ruined life, of blasted hopes.

When you hear about the prosperity that the booze business is bringing to America remember that the above letter is a better indication of what the booze sellers are doing to America and the Americans than any of the ballyhoo they themselves put out.

John W. Cartwright Seeks Aldermanship

Present City Assessor Asks Republican Nomination For Second Ward

In the interest of his candidacy for the office of Alderman in the Second Ward, John W. Cartwright makes this announcement:

"I have lived in your ward for 24 years, our home being at 407 Summit avenue. Some of you will remember me from my old tin mill days in the Greer plant; many business and professional people knew me for years as a real estate and insurance agent, and most of you will recognize me as the city assessor since April 1.

"My present position is the first I have held in public service, and I record in this connection is such that I welcome any sincere inquiry. "After completing my first triennial assessment, only two of each thousand property owners filed appeals from my assessments; less than one of each thousand asked for hearings before the Board of Appeals, and not a single case was taken before the local court. If you were familiar with these proceedings in the past, you will know why I have gotten a measure of satisfaction out of one of the most difficult jobs in public service.

"I think my education and ability to learn are sufficient for the job of Alderman, and if elected I promise to conduct that minor court with the same dignity, sound judgment, vision and impartiality that are presumed to be required in the higher courts. I will keep free from financial and social bias and political interference. I will prejudice no case and always seek the truth behind it. These are the only promises honest people expect to receive. If there are those who would ask me to deviate from these standards, the service available to them in my court will be limited.

"That is my code and if you believe in it and me, I will appreciate your vote and a recommendation to your friends."

JOHN W. CARTWRIGHT.

AROUND CITY HALL

Director of Public Improvements James Gibson today stated that Carmi Glover, in charge of sewers for the city, has a force of men cleaning the storm sewer which runs from Taylor street past the Pennsylvania Engineering Works to the Neshannock creek.

East side railroad crossing is in need of repairs according to autoists.

There was a crap game on the sidewalk in Neshannock avenue at 3:10 a. m. today, according to police, who didn't like to see the "dominoes" galloping on the concrete at that hour, and in view of anyone who passed by, so they arrested men who gave the names of Robert E.

Vote Pay Raise For Substitute Teachers

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 21.—Despite rulings, from State Auditor General James H. Duff that substitute school teachers are not entitled to pay increases voted by the legislature, Mr. Lebanon authorities today moved to avert a threatening teacher shortage by promising alternate instructors salary adjustments.

A. McMillan, school board president, asserted that if the district doesn't revise its attitude regarding substitute teachers and provide extra funds for salary boosts, "our board will make the adjustments good."

He pointed out that substitute instructors were "uncertain of their jobs, knowing that they will be replaced when regular teachers return from military service, and if we add to this disadvantage by denying them salary increments, we will not be able to hold them."

Small Merchants Being By-Passed

Defense Council Leader Declares Meats Not Properly Distributed

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 21.—The state defense council today urged the federal government to prevent the "by-passing" of small stores by meat distributors.

Mrs. Conway Zirkle, chairman of the committee on consumer interests, called upon the war food administration for action, declaring that "we are faced with a serious problem concerning mal-distribution of meats."

"The large distributors are delivering their reduced supplies to the larger retail outlets, by-passing the small stores which formerly were their patrons," she charged. "This is working hardship, not only on the small stores but on the consumers who patronize those stores."

Proper Allocation
The "only cure," she said, is that "the governmental agencies charged with the meat and food problem accept the responsibility of allocation and equitable distribution through normal distributive channels."

Mrs. Zirkle explained that such action would "provide reasonable supplies to everybody and the black markets should no longer flourish because if all distributive channels and trade levels receive their proportionate amount of supplies at legal prices, there would be reduced incentive for paying illegal prices."

"Although few indications of so-called 'gangster' black market activities are evident outside of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Lancaster and Erie," she asserted, "obedience to regulations at the retail level seems to be slackening."

Book At Library Interests Button Enthusiasts Here

Of special interest to local button collectors will be the fact that a new reference book on their hobby has been acquired by the public library—"Button Hand Book," written and privately published by Florence Zacharie Ellis Nicholls, herself a collector.

Many plates illustrating the beautiful, artistic and curious buttons of years back are contained in the book. The workmanship and ingenuity that was expended on buttons by past generations, as revealed in this book, causes one who has always regarded buttons as strictly functional complements of buttonholes to open his eyes.

From Mrs. Nicholls' book one learns that there was a time when button-making was a skilled craft and buttons were for decoration as much as use.

Collecting buttons is an enthusiasm with people throughout the world. As is usually the case with other curios and antiques, age and matched sets enhance their value. Most collections range from 50 to 100 years old. Older buttons are rare and highly prized.

It is not known how many people here have collections of buttons, but among them are Mrs. B. J. Kolb, of West State street, Mrs. J. F. Renz, of East Winter avenue, and Mrs. J. Frederick Roberts, of Barbour place.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

The truth is that it is the "little things" that count—often more than the supposedly big things—in war, in peace, in public life, in private life. A very wise man once said that the "little things" really are the big things.

IN THIS WAR, obviously, the big thing is to have abroad a great force of armed men with which to crush our enemies. That seems the big thing and is. But the big thing can't possibly be done without the "little things." The great force abroad cannot be collected, transported, supported, maintained and sustained unless the "little things" in Washington are adequately done. To the degree that these "little things" are well done, the great force will be effective. To the degree that they are poorly done, it will be weak and ineffectual. The length of the conflict and the length of the casualty lists both can be measured by the competency with which the "little things," which we are told it is petty to touch upon, are managed here.

THAT IS the true yardstick and that is why every man and woman with a son or brother, husband or sweetheart abroad, ought to be vitally concerned about Washington inefficiency which inevitably is translated into terms of American lives. That is why to ignore, condone or excuse this inefficiency is wicked. That is why it is the duty of every man who knows the facts to raise his voice in protest—and keep on raising it—undeterred by such silly statements that he "can't see the forest for the trees" or that such criticism hampers the President with all his energies bent on winning the war.

ACTUALLY, the reverse of that is true. It does not hamper the President to point out these things; it helps him. If no one had pointed them out twenty months ago—and kept on pointing them out—the muddle today would be very much thicker than it is and the cost in lives far greater. Efforts, by criticism, to end the ineptitudes and absurdities of the OWI, to force some kind of sense into our manpower management; to compel adoption of an adequate taxation program; to secure a qualified man as Food Administration; to reorganize the ridiculous OPA; to expose the humbugger of the labor lobbyists who are using the war and their White House connections to extend their power; to restrain the raw and rampant fourth-term politics which are being played all over the place—such efforts do not diminish the effectiveness of our armed forces.

ON THE contrary, the enhance effectiveness in the exact proportion that they are successful. They do more to insure the victory shorten the war and lessen the cost not merely in money but in "blood, sweat and tears" than all the fervid sermons on our post-war program and all the earnest expositions of our duty to raise the prostrate nations of Europe again to their feet. This is not to say that thought alone these lines is not valuable and needed. It is to say that if winning the war quickly is the first essential, then it would be well to be practical for a change—to realize that the quality and character of Washington management not only directly affects the war but the peace, too; that it is to the interests of every citizen to have this quality as good as possible and that today it is, in most respects, very bad indeed—so bad that it has hardly any disinterested defenders.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

need a slang dictionary at your side to explain the language used by the characters depicted by the English writers.

Do you happen to know what a "buzzman" is or was? Well, a "buzzman" was a pick-pocket, a "prig" was just a plain thief.

And here is a harder one. What was a "tattler"? You might think a "tattler" was one who spread too much gossip. It was not. It was a striking watch or clock.

And here is another. You may come across in your reading the word "tubby" and from the context you may guess the meaning of the word and then again you may not. The coster-monger of London one hundred years ago spoke of his head as his "tubby."

Now we have had for some time the word "Gob," designating an enlisted navy man. Many officers of the United States Navy resent it very much and at one time the commander in charge of the Naval Training Station in San Diego absolutely forbade the use of the word by the men being trained there.

I might go on with many modern slang words, but the most modern that has come to my notice is the word "blooper."

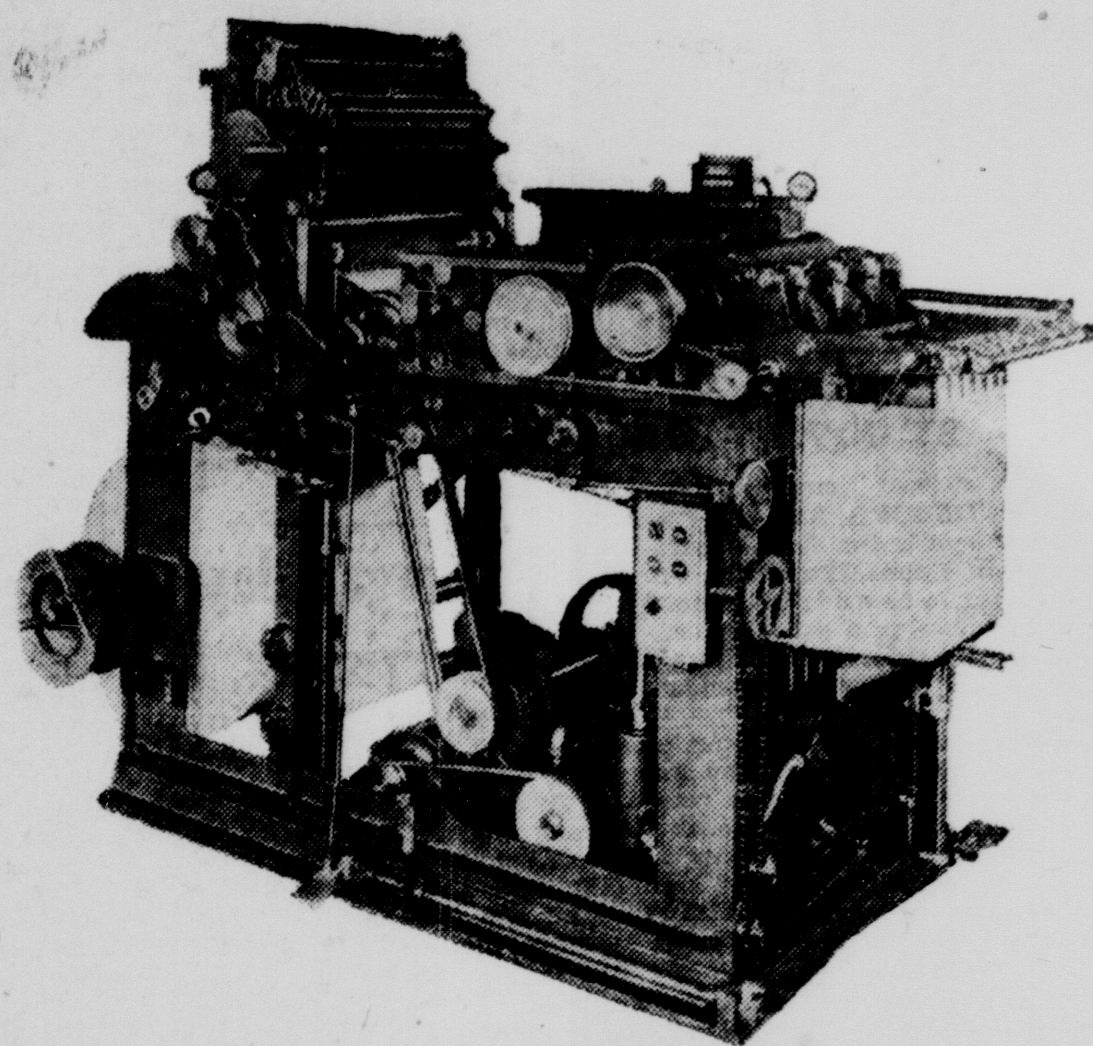

This word "blooper" is used to designate an automobile driver who flashes his bright headlights in your dimout-adjusted eyes. Why do "bloopers" do this? Presumably because they think they can find out whether a lurking shadow is a pedestrian or a tree. Actually, they find out nothing and can't even see the shadow any more, because the momentary presence of bright light blinds the "blooper"—to say nothing of the unwary motorist who may be approaching him.

JOHNSON BRONZE

Looks to the Future

The Printing Industry

There was a time, not long ago, when the elimination of vibration was a major problem with every builder of printing machinery. That was before Johnson Bronze engineers stepped into the picture. A careful analysis of every factor soon enabled our men to make recommendations, based on facts, supported by more than thirty-five years of bearing experience.

Proof of the soundness of our advice can be gained from the lithographing machine shown above. On this particular piece of equipment you can balance a coin on the frame of the press... start the machine... bring it to its top speed—27,000 impressions per hour—and then shut it off. The coin will remain balanced on the frame throughout the entire operation.

The builders of printing equipment are today busily engaged in the production of armament. They were one of the first industries to convert to essential war work. As a result, a large backlog of normal printing equipment business is accumulating against the day when Victory is ours.

When that day comes Johnson Bronze will again be their favorite source of supply for Sleeve Type Bearings. This is just another reason why Johnson Bronze will continue to grow, continue to provide steady employment for the citizens of our community.

formation now has 10,000 pictures, but it is at a loss for words.

When an economy-minded Congress recently slashed Davis' budget for OWI domestic operations from $8,800,000 to $2,500,000, it pared the agency's photographic unit from 35 people down to Harry Coleman, chief of the section; three photographers, and a couple of clerks. Coleman got $50,000 a year to run on.

Result: OWI possesses some 10,000 pictures made at a cost of thousands of dollars over the past year, but it has no personnel to file, care for and distribute the prints. Thus the photographs—principally of American war factories and other martial scenes—are virtually "frozen."

OWI once did a rushing business on the pictures, filling requests for trade magazines, industrial publications and other uses.

Now they are gathering dust for lack of funds to operate the file room.

Policy Changes In School System

Re-appointed Superintendent
Announces Certain
Policies To Be Changed

SHAKEUP HINTED
BY GOV. MARTIN

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 21.—Policy changes in the State Department of Public Instruction are expected to be made public next week following a series of conferences between Gov. Edward Martin and Superintendent Francis B. Haas.

Haas, whose present term as head of the state education system expires Monday, was re-appointed yesterday by the governor for four more years at $12,000 annually. He had been named to the position in 1939 by former Gov. Arthur H. James.

Discussing Changes
"I am having, and will continue to have during the next few days, discussions with the governor on certain policies of the department, and I expect to issue a statement shortly," Haas asserted.

The educator, who begins his third term in office Monday, is a native of Philadelphia, where he served as teacher and principal in the public schools. He also served as president of Bloomsburg State Teachers college.

The policy changes, it was believed, may have a bearing on the pending shake-up in the department's personnel which has been hinted by the governor. When Haas begins his new term Monday, he will be without a deputy, for Dr. Clarence E. Ackley, of Pittsburgh, who now holds the post, has received notification from Governor Martin that his services will terminate on that date. The chief executive stated he was making studies of the personnel but said they were incomplete as yet.

Mrs. R. M. Tidball Dies As Funeral Of Sister Takes Place

Death Takes Two Butz Sisters
Within Short Time Of Each Other

Sisters, who had lived parallel lives for the greater part of their 80-odd years, remained closely united in death Friday when one passed away as the funeral service for the other was about to begin. As relatives and friends, mourning the passing of Miss Carrie Butz, who died Wednesday evening, were waiting for the opening sentences of her funeral service at the Offutt funeral home, Mrs. Riley M. Tidball, the former Emma Butz, died at her residence at 419 East Moody avenue. Both sisters had been ill for some time, but that they died so short a time apart came as a shock to their other sisters and relatives.

The Misses Rose and Effie Butz, the surviving sisters, and the other mourners were not informed of the second death until the conclusion of the interment service for Miss Carrie at Oak Park cemetery, as they were about to return to their doubly bereaved home.

New Yorkers Lead By Nine Games; Ott's Homer Beats "Rip" Sewell

CARDS SPILL PHILS; BRAVES KAYO CINCY

By JOHN CASHMAN
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—It was said of the New York Yankees, before they started on their last western swing, that the tough schedule ahead of them on that tour would leave them limp as dish rags. Eighteen games in 24 days is indeed a tough schedule, and the worst is ahead for the Yankees, apparently, but today they show no signs of immediate deterioration.

Tired as they were from the two previous days' experiences, the Yankees still found enough strength yesterday to maul five Cleveland Indians' twirlers for a 10 to 5 victory. The Yankees collected 14 hits, half of them doubles, evening the series at two-all, and thus presenting themselves with the opportunity of winning their eleventh straight tournament in the play-off today. Atty Donald gained his first decision since June 26, although he wasn't around at the finish.

Bucs Sink Twice
And, as if the New York Giants weren't weary after the succession of horrible beatings that have rained on their shoulders, they upped and took both ends of a doubleheader from the tough Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 2 and 7 to 4.

Manager Mel Ott won the opener with a sixth-inning homer by Ducky Medwick aboard. Ott again figures in the lightcap win, by providing the first of a series of winning runs, walking, then scoring on a double by Sid Gordon. "Rip" Sewell dropped the opener.

Whitlow Wyatt is today's classic example of a man who can take so much, and no more. The usually pliant Wyatt came near to losing out on a 6 to 3 pitching triumph of the Brooklyn Dodgers over the Chicago Cubs by becoming involved in two squabbles in the sixth inning.

After hurling harsh words at Umpire Tom Dunn from the mound, Wyatt and the arbiter advanced toward each other threateningly. Leo Durecher—of all persons—threw himself between the potential combatants. Again Leo, the lamb of kindness, intercepted Wyatt when the latter strode angrily toward the Cubs' bench and Jimmy Wilson.

Brave Edge Cink
The Boston Braves eked out a 3 to 2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds on Whitey Wietelmann's 12th-inning double with two aboard. Both Al Javery and Johnny Vander Meer went the route, Javery getting the decision.

The Detroit Tigers scored their third shutout in three days over the Boston Red Sox, with a 1 to 0 whitewashing behind the combined efforts of Rudy York and Stubby Overmire. While Overmire yielded only five hits, York singled in the ninth inning to drive in Doc Cramer with the game's lone run. The St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Philadelphia Phillies in a night-game, 5 to 1, on a sixth-inning rally off Bill Lee in which they pushed across all their runs. Morten Cooper hung up his 17th victory of the season although he was relieved in the ninth.

The Washington Senators made the most of nine hits in giving a night thrashing to the Chicago White Sox, 10 to 6. The Sox banded out a total of 11 hits, but were beaten when the Senators bunched their blows for an eight-run eighth-inning rally.

Andreas, Syracuse university athletic director, has announced cancellation of football by the university for the season of 1943.

A 25 per cent increase in the production of sports equipment, due mainly to demands of the armed forces, pointed up sharply today the fact that more Americans are participating in athletics than ever before. The War Production Board disclosed that 70 per cent of the equipment output, already one-fourth greater than the peace-time level of 1941, was going to the army, navy and marines.

Beau Jack is illiterate and cannot read his own name, but he can read the figures 100,000 in his bank book. SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Biggest upset in tennis circles today was the defeat yesterday of Francisco "Pancho" Segura of Ecuador by Seymour Greenberg of Chicago.

Greenberg toppled the hard-driving South American in the fifth match of the round robin singles with scores of 6 to 4, 0 to 6, 6 to 4. The national clay court champ thus provided a three-set contest for today when he, Segura and Bob Falkenberg, the California ace, meet in a one-set issue.

Segura and Greenberg will play one set with the winner facing Falkenberg in a deciding set.

Dempsey Anxious For Real Fighting

Would Like To Meet Hitler At Any Weight; In Top Form

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Jack Dempsey, appearing in the pink of condition in his uniform of a lieutenant commander in the U. S. coast guard, was ready today "to take on Hitler at any weight." The former world's heavyweight boxing champion, who stopped off in Chicago en route to Utah, declared he was down to fighting trim and had learned a lot of new rough and tumble tactics in the coast guard designed for what he termed "those rats we're fighting."

"We had rules and sportsmanship when I was in the ring," the Manassas mauler said. "But the only rule in this war is to get the Nazis and the Japs before they get you. I'd like to take on Hitler at any weight and I'm anxious to go abroad and see some real fighting."

King Career Over

Declaring he never would go back into the ring, Dempsey predicted that Joe Louis, the present heavyweight king, would retire when the war ends. He said: "When you're out of the ring for a couple of years, you simply can't come back. Joe knows that, too. He's one of the greatest fighters of all time, a swell sportsman and a credit to his race."

Dempsey also announced there wasn't a chance that he and his former wife, Hannah Williams Dempsey, would make up.

"I'm through with Hannah—and that's final," Dempsey asserted. "All this talk of making up is the bunk."

REDSKINS POINT FOR STAR GAME ON WEDNESDAY

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—The Washington Redskins, professional football champions, resumed hard training today for their game next Wednesday night with the all-star collegians at Dyche stadium, Evanston, Ill.

The Redskins are putting in their final flicks for the annual contest at Loyola university while the all-stars are getting in shape at the Northwestern university field.

Bergman Is Gloomy

Although Head Coach Harry Stuhldreher of the all-stars believes he has some of the best material that the collegiate squad has boasted in years, Coach Dutch Bergman of the pro team refused to be impressed. He said: "Despite the overwhelming manpower of the college team and the group of expert coaches who are getting them in shape, I can say for myself and the players that we're confident of winning after a hard battle."

Stoneboro Fair To Have Races

Seventy-Sixth Annual Fair Is Scheduled To Start On September 3

In completing plans for the seventy-sixth celebration of The Great Stoneboro Fair, which opens Friday, September 3 and continues through Labor Day, over $10,000.00 is being offered in exhibitors' premiums, prizes and race purses.

It is expected that the Dairy and Livestock Judging Contest for Future Farmers of America Chapters, 4-H Clubs and Adult Farmers will have approximately one hundred fifty participating in the event. This will take place Saturday morning, as will the usual judging of all livestock.

Victory Garden Displays by communities is now being arranged and will afford the novice gardener, in each community participating, an opportunity to show some of his produce.

The usual features which are incident to every successful fair will be a part of the program.

Three races for Saturday and Labor Day have been carded with purses aggregating $2,600.00.

LOSS BY FORFEIT HALTS MORGRETS

Mongrets soft ball club of the United Engineering League, forfeited their regular scheduled game to the "Gallaghers" of the foundry by the score of 9-0 on Friday night.

League leading first half champs were short of players, and decided to forfeit.

The Gallaghers defeated the Bauers Thursday on Rose avenue grounds, 15 to 8. The Gallaghers will be a strong second half contender, as they are out to do their damage, with all players now in shape.

WISTERT-WILDUNG STARS' CO-CAPTAINS

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Two great collegiate tackles, rivals through three years of Big Ten competition, were installed today as co-captains of the college all-star team that will meet the Washington Redskins next Wednesday night in Northwestern's Dyche stadium.

Elected to lead the collegians on the field were Al Wistert of Michigan and Dick Wildung of Minnesota.

Moose-Elders Play 2 Sunday

City Baseball leaguers continue their mad dash toward the second half finish line on Sunday afternoon.

The top attraction brings together the Moose club and Elder A. C. in a twin bill booked for Marshall field. In the other set, the Lawrence Indies and Shenango Pottery battle on Lee avenue field.

In as much as they're sharing the top post with the Indies, the Moose outfit can move ahead by downing the formidable Gunnert team twice. While they are lodged in third place, the Elders stand to get back in the race by marking up a pair of successes.

Deshon Personnel Appreciates Gift

Express Gratitude For Money Raised Here At Boxing Show

Following the visit by the Deshon Hospital Boxing committee Thursday night when through their chairman they turned over $3,597.82 to Col. C. J. Gentzkow, the writer for Deshon Hospital News reported the appreciation of the personnel and patients in the Butler Eagle as follows:

"The surprisingly large sum of $3,597.82, net proceeds of the Benefit Boxing and Entertainment carnival sponsored by the citizens of New Castle, was turned over to the recreation fund of the hospital in a presentation ceremony Thursday evening. The presentation was made to Col. C. J. Gentzkow, commanding officer, by the Deshon hospital benefit committee of New Castle. Seven members of the committee, headed by Louis B. Rounds, general chairman, were on hand. Although the New Castle carnival drew approximately 3,000 attendance, it was not expected that the net proceeds would be so large. The patients and personnel of Deshon can only say "thanks" and doesn't it make you feel good to have such friends."

Between Cooper and Turnesa were the people's choices, Nelson and Byrd. Byrd, teeing off in the initial threesome, gave the field something to shoot at when he rounded the turn in 33. He failed to keep up that withering pace, but managed to wind up the second nine in a par for a 68 total that kept him in front until Turnesa walked off the last green around dusk.

In the meantime "Lord Byron", playing his customary consistent games, negotiated a pair of 34's to pull even with Byrd.

Turnesa Grasps Lead In Chicago Tourney With 67

Sergeant Uses Only 25 Strokes On Greens In Victory Golf Classic

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—The Chicago Victory National Open tournament moved into the second round today offering a strong element of poetic justice.

Proceeds of the tourney have been earmarked for the wounded veterans of World War II, and as the aristocratic field of 41 golf experts advanced, a chunky, soft-spoken soldier led the parade.

Turnesa Shoots 67

He is Sgt. Jim Turnesa, sixth of seven famous golfing brothers and one of the three competing in the present tourney. In the first round of the 72-hole battle yesterday, Sergeant Jim took the lead with a flashy 35-67, four under par for the tricky Beverly County club course.

One stroke behind came two favorites, Byron Nelson of Toledo, former National Open king, and Sam Byrd of Ardmore, Pa., the old New York Yankee outfielder who got tired of waiting to replace Babe Ruth.

Another stroke further down the line trailed Jimmy Demaret of Detroit, Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and "Lighthorse" Harry Cooper of Minneapolis with 69's.

Champions all, but Turnesa's putt couldn't be held yesterday. He needed only 25 strokes on the greens, taking 10 on the last nine. On the back stretch he had only one two-putt hole, the 14th.

The sergeant's incoming 32 was equalled, though not so spectacularly, by the veteran Cooper. Harry shot a trio of birdies on the back stretch to give him a card of 37-69.

Byrd-Nelson Tied

Between Cooper and Turnesa were the people's choices, Nelson and Byrd. Byrd, teeing off in the initial threesome, gave the field something to shoot at when he rounded the turn in 33. He failed to keep up that withering pace, but managed to wind up the second nine in a par for a 68 total that kept him in front until Turnesa walked off the last green around dusk.

In the meantime "Lord Byron", playing his customary consistent games, negotiated a pair of 34's to pull even with Byrd.

Sports Ramblings

Most any old thing:

The robin, its bright underbelly a welcomed sight, is the harbinger of spring, that's what my teacher taught me. Robert Mills is a sure token that another football panorama is here. Behind a fresh, crisp stock of cookie dusters, the efficient Ne-Ca-Hi ticket manipulator, back in full stride following a protracted illness, stepped into the office today to unload Annie Oakleys (all on time accounted for list, by the way) and to announce that the pasteboard sale starts Tuesday, August 21. Step up, no crowding please. . . .

Additional proof, the lead pipe cinch, reached the desk as Mills left and the phone rang. The caller was Phil H. Bridenbaugh, who is to western Pennsylvania scholastic football what "Jock" Sutherland represents in Pitt's memory book. He wants me to inform, through print, "Cane 1943 prospects that the initial meeting has been moved up to Tuesday evening at 6. Taggart stadium is the place. . . .

Taking advantage of the opening, I asked about prospects for the season ahead. The cunning grid maestro said that the question is shrouded with as much mystery as the whereabouts of Mussolini. "I'll know as soon as the boys see a little action. Off hand, not so good. You know how many boys we've lost. Lee and Currie, Tedesko and." At this point, I interrupted the swan song. The press must roll, you know. . . .

Added touches.—Add signs of the time.—Yale will swap football knowledge with Muhlenberg on September 11. Yale should win, in case you're looking ahead to the pools. . . . And Rio Grande, which hasn't won a football game since 1937, will be back again for some more punishment. The reverse streak, now 28, should reach the 35 mark by the close of the campaign. . . .

Shenango High Grid Prospects Meet Monday

Coach Eddie Nahas will take a glimpse at Shenango township high's 1943 football material during a meeting in the school gym on Monday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

The opening session will be confined to a discussion of the coming season. Inasmuch as the PIAA prohibits its members from practicing until August 25, the "Wildcats" will sit back until Thursday before donning moleskins.

Margaret Ann Delahanty of Albany, N. Y., is an auxiliary under going training at the 4th WAC Training Center, Fort Devens, Mass. She was New York State Women's Golf champion in 1939 and has been a prominent contestant in Eastern tournaments for several years.

Harry Wyse, young pitcher of the Cubs, is one of the fastest workers in the big leagues.

PENN STATE FILLS THREE GRID DATES
North Carolina, West Virginia And Cornell Supplant 'War Casualties'

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Aug. 21.—Three "war casualties" were supplanted today on the Penn State football schedule by North Carolina, West Virginia and Cornell.

The replacements were announced by Neil M. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics, who expressed regret at the loss of Georgia, Syracuse, and Michigan State from a schedule that will pit the Lions against nine opponents this fall.

Lucky In Getting Foes
"We were most fortunate, however, in securing North Carolina, West Virginia, and Cornell for the open dates," he said.

The game with North Carolina at Chapel Hill, October 2, will mark the first meeting between the two schools in football, although relations have been maintained previously in other sports.

West Virginia, lone conqueror of Penn State last year and an opponent for the past three years, will tilt the date left vacant by the withdrawal from intercollegiate competition of Michigan State. The Mountaineers will play here October 30.

Third and final replacement puts Cornell, an opponent of previous years, in the spot formerly filled by Syracuse. This game will be played November 6 at Ithaca, N. Y.

BEVERLY $10,000 HANDICAP TODAY
(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Mar-Kell, the four-year-old pride of Calumet Farm, went hunting for revenge today in the $10,000 added Beverly Handicap at Washington Park.

The mile and an eighth gallop gives Mar-Kell a chance to square accounts with two rivals which beat her previously this season—Hal Price Headley's Askmenow and Ruth Sidel's Burgoon Maid.

Askmenow appeared even more formidable today since George Woolf, generally regarded as the nation's No. 1 jockey, was slated to fill her saddle.

Good Slab Staff
In the slating department, Manager Billy Southworth has been blessed with a winning staff. Cooper is the ace but Murray Dickson, Harry Gumbert, Howie Krist, Harry Brecheen, Max Lanier, George Munger and Ernie White all have won more games than they have lost. Recently, the Cards acquired Alpha Brazle, coast league phenom, who proceeded to win three straight for the league-leading St. Louis club.

The Cards will have the benefit of their home grounds for the stretch run. The schedule lists them at home for most of September with the windup coming against the last-place Giants, Oct. 1-2-3.

In addition, two other regulars, Catcher Walker Cooper and Third Baseman George Kurovski, are swatting the ball for 300

'Cane Gridiron Prospects Meet Tuesday Night

Taggart Stadium Session Starts At 6 O'Clock; Candidates To Get Equipment

While the opening game is a Friday, September 10, date the season actually opens on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock for New Castle high's 1943 football pack.

Early this morning, Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh set the time for the initial session to be held in the Cane's dressing room at Taggart stadium.

Concerning the meeting, Bridenbaugh said: "Hard Out Equipment. It is important that all boys who expect to participate in football report. Besides, taking the physical examination, the boys will receive their equipment. The meeting is open to all New Castle high boys who want to play football. The meeting starts at 6 o'clock sharp."

At the same time, the coach, who 1942 team won the class AA WPIAL championship, announced that the first workout will be held on Wednesday.

The annual Muddy Creek Falls drills begin on August 30 with the squad spending the entire week in camp.

New Castle's inaugural foe is Grove City.

Legion Team Loses Game At Lewistown

Defeated In Opening Contest By Score Of 3-2 Friday Afternoon

New Castle's American Legion team lost the opening game of the series between them and the Lewistown team at Lewistown yesterday afternoon by a 3-2 score.

The boys returned home last night, and started resting up for a double bill which is scheduled for this afternoon at Marshall Field, the weather permitting.

Indications (this morning pointed to rain, and in this event the games may have to be played tomorrow, which would suit the local boys better.

Eruasian Jersey Handicap Favorite

(International News Service)
CAMDEN, N. J., Aug. 21.—Eruasian, victor in the historic Travers stakes at Belmont last Saturday, was expected to win the Jersey Handicap at Garden State Park this afternoon.

Racing under the colors of the Havahome stable, the improving son of Quatre Bras 2nd likely will go to the post a 6 to 5 first choice in the small but select field of three-year-olds. This is the most important race for three-year-olds of the Camden meeting and Eruasian is regarded as the best of the division season actively racing.

Water Pearl, conqueror of Eruasian in the Mile Saranac at Belmont Park just a short time back, shapes up as the one to defeat.

Welker Brothers In U. S. Service In Reunion Here

Local Lads Arrive From Different Military Points; First Reunion For All In Months

When one lad returns home from the U. S. armed forces on furlough, it is a celebrated occasion. When four soldier brothers unknown to each other arrive home for a visit with their parents at the same time, it is almost unbelievable, and calls for "all-out" celebration.

Just such a thing happened to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Welker of the Harbor road during the past few days when their four sons who got the first glimpse of the world at the Welker homestead, arrived on furlough.

Their first surprise was given them when their son, Fred Welker, 30 years old, who is serving as combat correspondent with the U. S. Marines, arrived by plane for his first visit in over a year. He recently returned from South Africa. However, having to leave on a special mission, he missed seeing his three brothers by only a short space of time.

Tanker Next

Second to arrive was Pvt. Robert Welker, age 19, who is stationed at Camp Polk, La., as a tank driver. This marks his first visit in over five months.

Third to put foot on the home soil is Cpl. Russell Welker, 24 years, of West Palm Beach who serves as an airplane dispatcher, and marks his first visit in a year.

Fourth to be welcomed was their eldest son, Elmer Welker, Jr., age 33 who is serving the government in the shipyards at Wilmington, Delaware. It marked his first visit in two years.

Fred and Elmer Welker have already resumed their duties, while Pvt. Robert Welker and Cpl. Russell Welker will remain here until the latter part of the month, before reporting to their camps.

Red Cross Knitting, Sewing, To Be Moved

Penn Power Gives Use Of Rooms; Chapter Cited For Blood Donor Cooperation

At the meeting of the Red Cross board Thursday evening at the chapter house, it was announced that headquarters for the knitting and sewing production departments of the Red Cross Volunteer Services will be transferred from the Wallace block rooms to the Penn Power Company building on South Jefferson street before September 1.

Meantime surgical dressing work will continue at the Wallace block location until an announcement is made of the date when this department will be transferred to the west dining room of the Scottish Rite Cathedral. Previously it had been planned to make the Cathedral sewing production headquarters also, but sewing and knitting will be taken instead to the Power Company meter building where three large light rooms are being turned over to the use of the Red Cross.

Certificate of appreciation from the Pittsburgh chapter of the Red Cross for outstanding cooperation with the American Red Cross Blood Donor Service, received by the local chapter, was read to board members, Ellwood City, New Wilmington, and Bessemer will also be awarded certificates of appreciation for their contribution to this service.

Sgt. Schweinsberg, Tunisia Casualty, Has Returned Home

T. Sgt. Gene Schweinsberg of 1049 Adams street, who was seriously injured in action on March 7, 1943, in Tunisia while serving with the 805th Tank Destroyers, has returned to his home.

After serving 28 months in the army, eleven of which were overseas in England, Scotland and Africa, he received his discharge from the Fletcher General hospital on August 14, 1943. He has been placed on the Reserve List.

While able to be out, it will be several months before he will be in condition for any active duty.

MARKET DIPS
LOWER AGAINChrysler Weakest On Board,
Slumps 2 Points; Nervous
Selling Blamed

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The stock market today lost fractions to more than a point on nervous selling.

Chrysler was the weakest issue on the board, slumping 2 points at the day's low.

The list extended yesterday's losses at the opening and worked steadily downward in the second and final hour of trading.

Other weak spots in addition to Chrysler were Pepsi-Cola, Goodyear, American Can, American Car and Foundry and Paramount Pictures, each off a point or more.

Large fractional declines were sustained by General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Santa Fe, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Texas Co. and American Water Works.

Shares like U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Standard Oil of N. J., General Electric, U. S. Rubber and North American held their losses to minor fractions.

Gold shares reacted slightly after their gains in the preceding session. American Telephone was among the few stocks to resist selling.

The bond market was without change.

The curb market worked irregularly lower.

Farmers Can Get Loans For Crops

FSA Supervisor George Invites Farmers To Visit Him To Arrange Loans

"Increased production of war-vital food stuffs will be the number one objective of the Farm Security Administration for the third straight year," County Supervisor Clair E. George, said today in announcing the opening of the new loaning season.

"Loans will be available through FSA as they were last year," but there will be approximately one-third less money available for the financing of increased food production by our small farmers," The loans, which will be made for the purchase of feed, seed, fertilizer, tools and livestock, and only to farmers who cannot secure reasonable credit through private and government outlets.

Mr. George said the reduction in money available for loans was due to the congressional cut in Farm Security's appropriation during the recent Washington battle over the fate of the agency.

Increase Production

"These loans will be made with only one thought in mind," the farmer who receives a loan through us this year must have increased production as the principal thought in mind, and all our efforts in supervision and planning will be aimed at helping him grow every possible ounce of the food we need to win the war."

Mr. George invited farmers interested in securing loans to visit his office at Post Office Building, Beaver Falls, Pa. Loans will be made for production goods of nearly all types, as well as for the improvement of land and dwellings, to growers unable to secure reasonable credit rates through other loaning institutions.

SORES

Any sore place on the skin which does not heal in a few days should be investigated.
Cancer is so common that we should be on the lookout.
If it is taken in time, there is very little danger.
At first cancer is a local disease. It is limited to one spot. If it is removed, the danger is gone.
If it is not removed, it may spread to other parts of the body.
When that happens there is a lot of danger.
"A stitch in time saves nine."

Production Drops After Criticism

Truman Committee Told Its Criticism Had Injured Employee Morale

(International News Service)
CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 21.—Production of army aircraft engines at the Wright Aeronautical Corporation's Lockland plant fell off in July to less than one-sixth of peak volume since the senate Truman committee accused the company of turning out defective engines, the committee was informed Friday.

Maj. Gen. Oliver P. Echols, chief of army procurement, told the committee at its public hearing into its previous charges that the decrease was attributed to a drop in employee morale and the fact that their work had become "super-critical."

Guy W. Vaughn, president of the company, again declared that the company never had knowingly shipped defective engines or parts. He denied that he had criticized army inspection methods, and declared that "I don't believe that the Army Air Force had held up production."

"On the contrary, I believe it is helping to get back on our production scale," he asserted.
The committee had charged that most of the army inspectors at Lockland had displayed an undue regard for the well-being of the Wright Aeronautical Corporation and too often seemed to be motivated by a desire to protect the company and its interests.

Hold Steel Heir For Panhandling

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—A man police identified as Harrison McCready, 36, Pittsburgh, Pa., steel fortune heir, was arraigned in South State St. Court today on a charge of panhandling.

Detectives Alexander Marino and Frank Butler testified that the man begged a dime from them in downtown Chicago "to buy some beer."

The prisoner told Judge Charles S. Daugherty:
"I'm not a vagrant. I'm a waiter. I have a job beginning today at the Transportation Building."

The court then dismissed the charge.

McCready inherited the $750,000 Pittsburgh steel fortune of his father in 1925 but reportedly went through it in a hurry.

Election To Test 1944 Sentiment

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—In an election political observers view as having a decided bearing on the 1944 presidential campaign, the Democratic party will be tested anew at the polls of President Roosevelt's home state this November.
Balloting to fill the comparatively unimportant post of lieutenant governor of New York, voters actually will test the relative strength of Republicans and Democrats in politically-important New York as a forerunner of the bigger show next year.

Coming on the heels of Democratic reverses of last fall when Republican Governor Thomas E. Dewey swept an entire GOP ticket into office with him, the election is seen as the answer to just how much of this new-found strength Republicans have managed to retain—as well as at least a preliminary indication of how New York will go in '44.

At least one interesting sidelight is found in the question of the political future of Dewey should a Democrat be elected lieutenant governor. Dewey, often mentioned as a leading candidate for the Republican presidential nomination but who has repeatedly said he would not run, hardly would be available to be drafted in that event, observers feel. Such a draft would leave the nation's largest state in the hands of a Democratic governor.

Meanwhile, both parties began preparations for nominating candidates for the forthcoming election.

This Isn't What They Used To Do

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 21.—Military police in the third corps area will soon be handing out courtesy cards to soldiers who disobey regulations.

The cards, which were sent out by Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, commanding general of the third corps area, remind servicemen of the most common military errors of courtesy and bearing and urge the correct wearing of the uniform out of respect to "those of our companions who died in their uniforms."

Play With Matches Causes Bad Blaze

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Aug. 21.—Two boys, one 5 and the other 7, whose identity police refused to disclose, were blamed Friday for the blaze which swept the Altman Cash Feed Store here yesterday and destroyed thousands of bushels of grain and tons of feed.

Fire Chief Edward Clawson said the younger boy had struck a match and ignited loose hay in the rear of the store. The blaze, it was disclosed, had purchased the matches from an Altman clerk just a few minutes prior to the start of the fire.

The flames, which raced rapidly through the 150-foot building, were extinguished only after firemen battled for more than an hour.

Invasion Will Mean Food Shortage Here

Senator Kilgore Warns Of Shortage Here If We Feed Captured Areas

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Sen. Harley M. Kilgore (D-W. Va.), on Friday warned that invasion of Europe will be the signal for more rigid food control in this country as the Allies assume the task of feeding the millions in liberated nations.

"Although production of meats and vegetables is at the highest point in history, the United States is faced with a serious future as to food," Kilgore said.

"The taking of Sicily is an example of the responsibility we have assumed. Sicily's 4,000,000 people look to the United Nations for aid. At least a part of their food must come from this country. Whenever our military leaders decide that we invade Greece, Holland, Belgium or France, the problem will be multiplied many times."

Kilgore said the foremost task of the administration and the congress together is to formulate an over-all food program as part of the war effort. He urged that all participation and carping criticism be abandoned.

1. October 1, which is the date by which people who possess critical skills must transfer to war-essential jobs, if not already in them, or lose their occupational deferment.

2. The deadline for those in non-deferred jobs is immediate. If they don't register immediately with the United States Employment Service for useful war jobs they lose their dependency deferment. They have no occupational deferment status.

Didn't Love Him Man Shoots Girl

Former Secretary Of Gracie Fields Murdered By Former Suitor

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 21.—Police today set Monday for an inquest into the murder of Violet Van Somerin, 33, former secretary to British comedienne Gracie Fields, who was shot to death while she slept in her Hollywood apartment.

The confessed killer, Gaetano Falciani, 35, a former gardener at Miss Fields' Hollywood estate, was treated by physicians for pistol wounds self-inflicted after he fired two bullets into Miss Van Somerin's head.

From his bed at the general hospital prison ward, Falciani told police that he and Miss Van Somerin had been sweethearts until after three months ago, when she broke off their romance.

Gaining entrance to the attractive victim's bedroom by climbing a ladder and forcing open a window, Falciani shot her while she was sleeping, he told police.

"I shot her because she didn't love me any more," he said. "She wouldn't marry me."

A new roof over the ball room and repairs to the ballroom floor, in addition to the replacement of parts in the heater are primary among the repairs which will have to be done before actual use of the building at a recreation center can be possible.

Army-Navy Force Corn Prices Up Near Ten Million Granger Predicts

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 21.—National Grange Master Albert Goss on Friday predicted that the ceiling price on corn of $1.07 a bushel would be increased after October 31.

"Either corn will have to go up or hogs will have to come down," he declared, and the farmers will insist that corn go up. The disparity cannot be continued over a long period.

"If corn goes up and dairy prices are adjusted upward in some section, it would relieve most of the agricultural distress east of the Mississippi river."

The price of corn should be increased 20 or 30 cents a bushel he contended, for farmers now are finding it profitable to buy Canadian oats and barley for hog feed at prices comparable to about $1.35 or $1.40 for corn.
